VINTAGE NOTES

2021 looks excellent - of course, through the smoky rearview of 2020, it isn't hard. Despite a growing season with searing heat spikes (116F), 2021 was a moderate vintage, beginning harvest the third earliest time in the last two decades, and ending in less than a month, October 5th. It was a "wait-until-they're ripe" vintage with a welcome splash of rain midway in September, after grapes were largely picked - just to prove we're Oregonians.

Based on full-ripeness AND generally very good acidity, 2021 may ultimately resemble 2018 in concentration, and 2008 in crop yield. Small and precise, leaving us wishing we had more to share.

WINEMAKER'S NOTES

Rosé is pretty much our favorite thing about Spring, other than the extra sunshine we get in the evenings, now. How can you not get excited at the delicate salmon-pink color, bright and playful watermelon taffy and blood orange aromas, and the juicy, fleshy, round and silky palate, like a summer afternoon orange-sicle? Do you cringe at the sight of puppies and bunnies? Do flowers and pretty sunsets upset you? Do you dislike getting together around a beautiful picnic or bonfire with friend and family? If your answer to any of these questions was no, you're on the right track, and a bottle of this lovely, bright, fresh rosé can only help complement your upcoming evenings and weekends (or mornings and afternoons, if you're that bold). You can thank us later.

Harry Peterson-Nedry | Founder

When we first set foot on Ribbon Ridge in 1980, we knew it was something special. There was an indefinable magic to the place, in the low-slung, rolling hills that rise and fall like the breath of a slumbering child. It was undeniably alive, and bursting with potential.

In 1980 folks thought we were just plain nuts to plant wine grapes on that chilly rise located on the western edge of the Willamette Valley. The common thought at the time was that the site was situated too far west for grapes - too windy, too foggy, too cool.

We naively followed our gut, planting the first vineyard on what would one day become one of the premier wine appellations in Oregon, the Ribbon Ridge AVA. Ridgecrest Vineyards did not disappoint. Early barrel samples were encouraging. We studied it, continued to plant, and dug deeply.

Crafting our cellar-worthy RR wines since 2002, we know these vineyards – the ins and outs, strengths, and peculiarities of each and every block. We've done our homework.

Now, it's recess. We're ready to come out and play.*

Our new RIDGECREST label allows us to do just that – to experiment with all of those blocks, lots, and barrels that beg our attention every harvest – the ones we are loathe to blend with others, because they are just so damned intriguing. Pinot Noir will be the mainstay, with supporting roles played by Gamay Noir, Grüner Veltliner, Pinot Gris and Riesling.
